

TRANSPORTATION PLANNER

The Northwest Regional Planning Commission is hiring a Transportation Planner. The Planner will help our region with a coordinated approach to transportation planning and project implementation. The Planner will coordinate with local, regional and state officials and serve as staff support for the region's Transportation Advisory Committee and various modal or project-based committees. The Planner will provide technical assistance to municipalities, help to administer local transportation construction projects, and complete traffic counts, and bike and pedestrian plans.

The ideal candidate has a minimum of 4 years of professional, educational or volunteer planning experience in multi-modal transportation or a related field. They will be a self-starter with skills in collaboration, project management and communication. A college degree in a related field is preferred but not required if lived experiences, education and/or professional experience demonstrate an ability to succeed at this position. Please consider applying even if you do not meet all of the preferred qualifications, you might be a good fit for this or another position at NRPC.

NRPC offers an excellent benefit package and a collaborative work environment with a dynamic and friendly staff. Starting salary is $45-65,000 per year depending upon experience. NRPC is currently working in a flexible hybrid environment.

Please send a cover letter explaining your interest in transportation planning, a resume and three references to Catherine Dimitruk, Executive Director at jobs@nrpcvt.com, or 75 Fairfield Street, St. Albans, VT, 05478. This position will remain open until filled; interviews will begin mid-December, 2022.
